"The New Recovery Advocacy Movement" presented by Chris Budnick

A new recovery advocacy movement is growing in strength and numbers across the country. From the leadership of Faces & Voices of Recovery, local recovery community organizations have emerged for the purpose of supporting individual, family and community recovery.

In our state, Recovery Communities of North Carolina, Inc. (RCNC) has formed to promote addiction recovery, wellness and citizenship through advocacy, education and support. RCNC sponsors an annual Rally for Recovery during National Recovery Month, hosts screenings of The Anonymous People, provides recovery community messaging trainings and supports the recovery community throughout North Carolina.

Come learn about these efforts, why they matter and how individuals, families, friends and allies can make recovery more available.

This workshop is open to you, your family and friends in recovery. We look forward to seeing you there!
